Old Business

Lighting update: Mr. Rogers says the rotating beacon is being switched out today. So far everything has gone smoothly. Blake Roberson from Garver says they’re getting together the final punch list items for the contractors, and we should be able to finish up pretty soon. There are a few lights that were put too close to the runway center line, and the lights are out of alignment. The contractors will fix it shortly.

New Business

Improvement projects: Mr. Rogers hands out a list of small improvement projects needed around the airport. He says some of these will be worked into state grants, and some will be done from our operating budget. Mr. Rogers is getting together estimates for all the projects. Mr. Roberson says there are two state grant options that would be able to take care of several of these projects. Mr. Rogers says he and Blake will have a more specific proposal at the February meeting.

New Hangar Request: Robert Tanner is interested in maybe building a hangar that would be able to house planes he manages, and possibly a jet. He needs a good size hangar, and is interested in being in the space next to Barrett. He still has work to do planning, but he just wanted to see if the commission would even allow him to build there. There would be a lot of ground and dirt work that would have to be done. The commission says they’re okay with it in principle, they just want to make sure we plan that area out well. The commission wants to make sure it fits within the master plan of that area.

Engineer’s Report
Mr. Roberson says his info was covered discussing the lighting project.

Security Report
Mr. Honeycutt was there, says he has been keeping an eye on open gates during the cold and ice. Mr. Rogers says weather affects those gates heavily. Lt. Honeycutt says he’s working on the beaver problem and has caught 4 so far.

Directors Report
Mr. Rogers says he bought the new tractor, and it’s going to help with summer grounds maintenance a lot easier. Mr. Rogers is looking at buying a new batwing mower attachment.
