Little Rock Air Update: Mr. Rogers says Little Rock Air is going through some structural changes for their 141 flight school. Mr. Rogers says we met with Pulaski tech to work on a partnership, and is waiting to hear back. Mr. Rogers says because of how long everything is taking, it will be another year before they are in a position to get a state grant for their hangar. Mr. Rogers says we should start prioritizing differently for a 2014 state grant.

New Business
Tax Forms: Mr. Rogers talks about changing the way he will do the Pulaski county tax bills so that he will pay all of the bills at once, and then recoup the money through tenants’ rent. Mr. Rogers says he will include tax fees into rent bills to make sure they get paid on time.

State Grant 2014: Mr. Rogers says because the flight school will take a little longer, we should start thinking of what project we’d like to do with a 2014 state grant. Mr. Rogers will make a list of projects that are needed, with cost estimates, for the commission to prioritize. Tommy Murchison has a list of things his hangar needs, and some other projects he can think of. Mr. Murchison says he has people slipping on his floors, and something needs to be done to fix that. Mr. Rogers also wants to do a flight line design to plan out development of the ramp to make sure it’s developed most effectively and efficiently. Mr. Rogers also wants to still look into a restaurant, as well as better signage for the entry ways.
